The following items are applicable to this modification:SUMMARY OF CHANGES

1. THE FOLLOWING QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ARE HEREBY INCORPORATED INTO SOLICITATION N00174-06-R-0062:

- 1) Page 11 – Technical Capability: The first sentence states: “The offeror shall provide a concise list of tasks that the offeror will perform to meet or exceed the requirements in the RFP. “ I assume by “tasks” you mean the delivery and installation of the instrument and that I should detail how the system meets or exceeds the specifications. Is anything else required for this section?

Answer: This refers to how the vendor’s system meets/exceeds instrument specifications and the delivery/installation plan.

- 2) Page 11 – Technical Capability – item (6): Can you clarify what you are expecting in the way of “addressing our ability to meet the demands of testing NATO STANAG 4515”? We have replaceable DSC sensors, furnace protective tube and furnace in case of an explosion. Is that type of information a sufficient response or are you looking for something more?

Answer: This is best met by providing the Navy with reference of laboratory users with similar instruments who regularly perform testing on energetic materials: DOD, DOE, DOD contractors, etc. Any additional information which includes User replaceable parts will be factored a plus in the RFP.

- 3) Page 10; item c, #3: For offeror’s tracking number, is this a number that I generate or is there a tracking number that you have assigned?

Answer: This is an internal tracking number from the vendor to track down his/her proposal.
